About Me:

Architecture student, lover of interior design, urbanism, scenography and art. Positive, enthusiastic, demanding of myself, persevering with my work and eager to learn from my team and those around me.

Passionate about new challenges, I understand architecture and interior design as the opportunity to improve the quality of life of the people who will inhabit it, listening to and understanding their human needs.

I would love to use architecture as a tool to make a change in the world and as an instrument for personal growth. I engage well in teamwork and I like spreading optimism to the people that surround me.
